WHITE RICE CHEAP AND GOOD

STORY OF THE DAY

A lousy economy can lead to fantastic travel deals. Friendly Planet Travel is offering an eight-day taste of Vietnam for just under $1000—including round-trip air from LA! Of course Vietnam means different things to different people. For many the war still looms large, but many Americans these days are taken in by the warmth off the people and the interesting culture.

Regardless of the reason to visit, the Taste of Vietnam vacation is a deal. The package, starting visits two of Vietnam's most dynamic and culturally awe-inspiring cities: Ho Chi Minh City (Saigon) and Hanoi, the flight from LA (there's a surcharge if you want JFK), all ground transfers; all intra-Vietnam flights; six nights in superior hotel accommodations; daily buffet breakfast; and comprehensive sightseeing in each city with a local, English-speaking Vietnamese guide, including entrance fees.

And there are all kinds of additional interesting side trips to choose from. Plus there is a chance to have an authentic travel experience without tripping over a fast-food restaurant or strip mall every 50 feet, instead you'll see floating markets, winding canals, sweeping rice paddies, and bustling cityscapes. Start packing your bags. www.FriendlyPlanetTravel.com

MORE TRAVEL

Next time you decide to run away to Vegas to get married, forget saying your vows in front of an Elvis impersonator! You can say "I do" in style at the Signature at the MGM Grand. The Forever Grand wedding chapel is available to guests who stay at the hotel and the chapel is tastefully decorated in greens and browns, with wood accents, with a recessed ceiling with a chandelier and room for a piano.

The Signature is famous for its concierge/personalized service experience and the dining package perfect for newlyweds. The Champagne Duet ($150) – includes a bottle of Veuve Clicquot Yellow Label, six chocolate-dipped strawberries and a chef's selection of eight canapés.
